

Nivis

Band Bio as of February 2023

In 2020 Fjolla – only 16 years old at that time – and Johannes founded the Indiepop Band Nivis.

Their first meeting was just als special as the harmony of Fjolla's unique and velvety voice and Johannes's hands upon the guitar strings. A long haired man bun wearing guy in brown worn out leather boots was dancing around as he wanted to bring inspiration to a school band. On this workshop he fell in with a young and strong soul, who can transport everything with only her voice. They start a conversation, play their own songs to each other and decide to found a band. Nivis is born.

Then comes corona. During all the related restrictions they produce over 20 songs, four of which are already released on spotify. Nivis' special sound is based on classic indie guitars combined with carefully designed synthesizer sounds. The whole thing is wrapped up in Fjolla's powerful voice. Their lyrics are streaked by self-doubt and melancholy but from such an authenticity that there's only one conclusion: they sing about personal experience.

„We write sad songs about sad stuff. Have fun with it.“ The stated goal of the pop duo has always been to create music so sad, it could make it into the Rick and Morty credits. Hopefully a Nivis song will soon be heard on the show.
